THE SPIRITUAL SOLUTION TO ADDICTION AND SUBSTANCE ABUSE

Living with a loved one (spouse, child, brother, sister, parent) who is addicted to a substance in your life can make life seem impossible. Every day you are walking on eggshells. Life may be stressful, uncertain, or just plain bad. One thing is certain. It is never easy living with a person who is addicted to a substance in your life. Life can be challenging without having someone with a substance abuse problem in your life. With an addict, life can be unbearable. You never know which face the person will show or how the person will react in any circumstance. You never know if you can depend upon this person or if you will have to pick up the slack.

Everyone needs to feel love and sometimes the person that you thought was the love of your life turns out to be your worst nightmare, literally. Sometimes life with an addict is not bearable, but the reason why you stay on and are concerned is because you care and love the person so much to see the person self-destruct.

Addiction to any substance creates distance. When a person is so totally focused on obtaining and imbibing any substance of addiction then that becomes the main relationship in that person's life.

It is not their significant other, their children, or even their job. The one relationship is the one that they have with the substance of addiction. All their desire, all their effort goes into their dance with the substance of addiction. Everything else becomes secondary.

This dependence upon any substance of addiction turns your every interaction with this person into a struggle. This constant push and pull is one that is very frustrating and you feel as though as it is battle that you cannot win.

You may scream for hours, trying to get your loved one to the point of changing or desisting from their hook on substance, but the voices inside the addicts head which tell them to go on with the substance of addiction never stop. You can try, but you will tire long before the desire for the substance of addiction does.

Individuals of every race, gender, and class face the demons of addiction every day. There are many reasons for these addictions.

Young adults simply may be curious about various drugs or face peer pressure from their friends to try drugs of different types. They do not realize how quickly they can become addicted to these substances.

Many adults struggle with stress in their lives and choose to use drugs or alcohol to mask the problems of their everyday lives.

Living with an addict means that you have a person in your life who you cannot count on.

If this person is a spouse then you have someone who should have you as a priority but has the substance of addiction as a priority instead. You cannot count on this person even for day to day tasks because you never know when the need for substance of addiction will interfere with their life and with yours and you will have to pick up the slack.

THE EVIL POWER BEHIND ADDICTION AND SUBSTANCE ABUSE

AT THE POINT OF GIVING UP?

One of the greatest temptations you may face is the temptation to leave or abandon the addicted loved one. Sometimes, you just feel you have to leave and try to get over him or her. This can be hard, but after the years of living the way you have been makes it a little easier to consider this. You may have even moved out. Maybe you think that the person will change if you leave and they have to live on their own. You think that they do not need you anyways so they will probably not even care. This is the hardest feeling to live with for anyone. You may still care, but you do not believe that the person you are leaving does.

The fact is this, leaving will not cure the addict, neither will your staying do. What will cure your addicted loved one is the POWER OF GOD!

This is a very important fact you must grasp. Now you must understand that there are forces assigned from the Kingdom of darkness and deployed to individuals to keep them in bondage to one thing or the other and one of them is addiction and substance abuse. We see this fact from the scriptures:

Luke 13:11,16

“And, behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years And ought not this woman, being a daughter of Abraham, whom Satan hath bound, lo, these eighteen years, be loosed from this bond on the sabbath day?”

The word “infirmity” has two basic meanings:

1. Feebleness, frailty, weakness, sickness, disease, ailment

2. Moral weakness or defect

The spirit of infirmity cause both physical ailments and moral weaknesses or defects.

Addiction and substance abuse are moral weaknesses or defects and they are caused by the spirit of infirmity.

WHO IS THE SPIRIT OF INFIRMITY?

The spirit of infirmity is an evil spirit – a devil from the kingdom of darkness with multifaceted functions – to cause sickness and to get people bound or addicted to what constitutes a moral weakness or defect (addiction and substance abuse)

The devil works with unclean spirits and one of them is the spirit of infirmity or addiction keep people in bondage to substances or habits. His victims are usually helpless. Many attempts on their part to break free from what they are addicted to ended in a complete fiasco.

SPIRITUAL WARFARE TO ACHIEVE DELIVERANCE

What you must understand in order to win this war for the salvation and deliverance of your loved one from addiction and substance abuse is this:

There's nothing wrong with your addicted loved one (or any other person) except the devil.

Once you realize it's the devil (not your loved one) who's the real problem, your first prayer step becomes clear – and that is SPIRITUAL WARFARE to get the devil out of your loved one's life and mind.

This implies that if you must pray for the salvation and deliverance of your loved ones from addiction and substance abuse, you need to learn how to pray the right way and how to contend with the forces of darkness keeping them from in bondage.

To make it clearer, Jesus said:

“How can one enter into a strong man's house, and spoil his goods, except he first bind the strong man?” - Matthew 12:29

Remember, Luke 13:11,16

“And, behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years And ought not this woman, being a daughter of Abraham, whom Satan hath bound, lo, these eighteen years, be loosed from this bond on the sabbath day?”

Combining Luke 13:11,16 and Matthew 12:29, you will begin to understand that the strong man in the case of an addict is the spirit of infirmity that causes moral weakness and defects such as addiction and substance abuse.

You will also see and understand that the goods of the strong man, stored in his strong room is the mind and will of people. So, to get the mind, will and heart of people free from bondage to receive the salvation of Jesus and be saved, you must first of all, bind the strongman and render him completely powerless. Once the strong man is bound, you can now plunder his goods (the minds, will and hearts of loved ones) and set them free from every addiction and substance abuse

POWER OF INTERCESSION

The next step after engaging in spiritual warfare is Intercession.

This is where you use scriptures to stand in prayer on behalf of your loved one unto God to move mightily on him or her and restore him or her to a normal state of being

CONFESSION THAT WORKS

The last step is CONFESSION.

You need to declare that God has begun a good work in the life of your loved one.

Once you've prayed for your loved one like that, from then on, put your faith in action by treating your loved one like she is saved.

Don't treat your loved one like she is not good. That is how the power of the devil over your loved one is broken and destroyed and they become saved and free.

From here, you will begin to see changes in the life of the addicted loved one in form of making a commitment to seek help which will translate into a permanent change of behavioural attitude.

I have written this book to help and guide you in praying the right way to get your loved one saved and delivered from addiction and substance abuse by the power of God.

It is a three part prayer book:

- 1. Spiritual Warfare
- 2. Intercession
- 3. Confession That Works

Once you successfully engage effectively in this for a while, you will soon see your loved one responding to positive counsel for change, making commitment for change and actually changing and getting saved by the power of God!
